

ONERECOVERY TAKES HOME TECHAMERICA ‘HIGH TECH’ AWARD

SAN DIEGO, Calif., October 30, 2009 – OneRecovery, Inc., the first social networking platform connecting peers and health care professionals, announced today that it has been selected as the winner in the category of Medical Technologies for the 2009 TechAmerica ‘High Tech’ Awards. In its sixteenth year, the annual awards program commemorates excellence in the region’s technology industry, and honors outstanding companies for their technological or business innovations and exceptional products or service. OneRecovery was the winner in the Medical Technologies category, based on its cutting-edge online and mobile platform that makes health care more effective while significantly reducing costs.

“We have been very fortunate to have assembled a team of amazing entrepreneurs and powerful advisors to help us realize our goal of saving lives,” said David Metzler, founder and CEO of OneRecovery. “Our vision is to revolutionize health care through social media, and this award, along with strong customer demand for our solution, validates that we are on the right path.”

OneRecovery uses scientifically confirmed psychological principals, combined with professional and social accountability from trusted connections, to attain lasting and meaningful behavioral change. By enabling unlimited groups of people to come together for a common goal of improving health and wellness, OneRecovery’s patent-pending Social Solutioning™ platform represents the next generation of current social networking websites.

The TechAmerica Awards, held in La Jolla, California, gave out High Tech Awards in nine categories including Internet/Web Commerce; Computers and Related Products; Communications Products and Services; Clean Technology; Defense/IT Services; Semiconductor, Industrial and Analytical Instrumentation; Medical Device Technology/Instrumentation; and Outstanding Emerging Growth.

“TechAmerica was thrilled to see an outpouring of industry participation in the awards race this year,” said Kevin Carroll, executive director, TechAmerica San Diego. “The quality of contributions in the Medical Technologies category in particular, made the selection process very difficult.”

The 2009 TechAmerica High Tech Awards are sponsored through generous support by Barney & Barney, CRRE, Deloitte, Formula, Procopio, Silicon Valley Bank, SMS Technologies, TLC Staffing, and United Healthcare.
